End Date:

I confirm that the conditions below will remain in place for the period stated above, and that I will inform any of the veterinary schools named in the table below as appropriate, if this was to change in the future.

In accepting placements at this establishment I can confirm that:

- The student will receive an induction covering Health and Safety (including fire and emergency action, use of equipment and hazardous substances, first aid arrangements) and relevant risks, in order for him/her to perform the task adequately and work in a safe environment
- The environment the student will be placed in conforms to current Health and Safety legislation and all work practices that the student may be involved in have been subject to risk assessment
- This establishment has Employers Liability and Public Liability Insurance which extends to cover the student throughout his / her placement and copies of the appropriate Employers Liability certificate/letter of confirmation of Public Liability insurance will be made available to the student
- If the student has any work related sickness or accidents whilst on placement, we will immediately report this to the veterinary school and also ensure that any statutory notifications will be made to the HSE and/or to other appropriate authorities

THE VETERINARY SCHOOL'S COMMITMENT

Each Veterinary School has provided all students with training in essential first aid, basic animal management and basic personal farm safety. Students have also been reminded that they may only operate machinery and vehicles for which they have the appropriate licence.

We are keen to ensure that placements are equally positive for you, as for our student. The Placements Team at each Vet School is here to offer any support and back-up you may need whilst hosting one of our students.
